About Our Value Creation Approach

Being Adaptive and Proactive

Our production plants offer synchronised small-scale and large-scale solutions across a wide range of complex chemistries. We provide continuous process improvement, which enables us to render handling of complex chemistries into a standard operational procedure, a testament to our technological and manufacturing prowess.

Our long-standing growth trajectory gives us the confidence to set up ambitious performance targets. We feel that our growth potential is still untapped, and Hikal has the capabilities and business opportunities to fulfill it. In line with these targets, 'Project Pinnacle' has been envisaged and is being implemented.

Whilst our transformation initiative is at an early stage, we have seen the fruits of it already. We had an impressive start this financial year, where we achieved and exceeded our performance targets, but it tapered off towards the end of the year. Despite a challenging business environment, our performance gives us confidence that Project Pinnacle will deliver sustainable growth and profitability in the coming years.
